The Education segment is one of the most rapidly evolving commercial environments across Australia today. Workspace Commercial Furniture has had a long and successful relationship with education design specialists, builders, facilities managers and the institutional providers themselves.

Flexibility, interactivity and collaboration are all principles guiding the future of education and learning environments. The design intent seeks to provide multi-functional spaces that are adaptive and flexible in both space and use.

With a heavy focus on education, Workspace believe that educational spaces should work as hard as the educators themselves. The spaces should spark imaginations, nurture and develop creativity, support a diverse range of learning activities and above all, support a diverse range of learners.
