Hospitality

A photograph of a modern hospitality interior. In the background, a stone fireplace with a brick interior contains a warm fire. To the right, a bar with a stone wall and a dark countertop is visible, featuring a beer tap. In the foreground, several light-colored wooden bar stools with brown leather seats are lined up against the stone wall. The floor is made of polished wood, reflecting the light from the fire.

Workspace has been a leader in the hospitality fit out and refurbishment segment for decades. Our philosophy of building strong mutually beneficial relationships with Hospitality design and construction professionals and hotel groups has resulted in Workspace being involved in landmark projects across the country.

The expansion of international hotel brands, the rise of independent Australian hospitality operators and the online travel industry has created demand for hospitality experiences that are unique and memorable as much as they are practical. Whether you're opening a new restaurant or café or refurbishing an existing venue, we have the perfect hospitality retail solutions for you

Workspace not only provides an extensive range of seating and dining options but can also design customised solutions to match the unique theme of your venue.
